NHBM turning attention to construction of new facility

Wolfeboro, NH—February 20, 2020—With the immediate needs of New Hampshire Boat Museum’s existing building on Center Street addressed in 2019, the focus has shifted to planning for the construction of a new year-round building in Wolfeboro.

The campaign and NHBM itself received a boost in 2019, according to Executive Director Martha Cummings, when John Robinson, renowned Lakes Region builder and founder of Wood & Clay in Gilford, NH, joined the Site Planning Committee.

“He has offered his expertise as project consultant for the planning and construction of the new facility, which will be located on Bay Street,” she said. “We are all thrilled to have him on our committee and believe his expertise will be invaluable.”

Since its founding in 1979, Wood & Clay has built more than 200 luxury homes throughout the Lakes Region of NH, primarily along the shores of Lake Winnepesaukee.

“His love of the lakes and fine craftsmanship inspired him to incorporate the use of sustainable and green building practices in many of the homes he built,” explained Cummings. “John and his wife Leslie are passionate about our lake life culture and are determined to preserve it for future generations.”

Founded in 1992 by antique and classic boating enthusiasts, NHBM is committed to inspire people of all ages with an understanding of, and appreciation for, the boating heritage of New Hampshire's fresh waterways.
