

Quiz 45

Boats A and B are approaching an offset mark on starboard tack. The next leg is a downwind leg with time spent on both tacks. When A reaches the zone she is clear ahead of B. A sails about a length to windward of the mark and gybes onto port tack on her proper course which will bring her close to the mark. Before A reaches the mark, B, who is still on starboard tack, luffs sharply to avoid contact with A, and protests. You are on the protest committee; how would you decide this?
